

Activity:

1. Have students complete multiplication worksheet 1 during the space of 2 minutes (included in the collection). Then, partner the students up and have one student complete worksheet 2 while their partner distracts them any way they can. Then partners switch roles. Tally up how many questions were completed on both worksheets and lead a discussion about which distraction methods worked the best.